- C. Option C
- D. Option D

Answer: C

NEW QUESTION: 2

Instructions

Enter IOS commands on the device to verify network operation and answer the multiple-choice questions.

THIS TASK DOES NOT REQUIRE DEVICE CONFIGURATION.

Click the device icon to gain access to the console of the device. No console or enable passwords are required.

To access the multiple-choice questions, click the numbered boxes on the left of the top panel.

There are four multiple-choice questions with this task. Be sure to answer all four questions before clicking Next button.

Scenario

You are a junior network engineer for a financial company, and the main office network is experiencing network issues.

Troubleshoot the network issues.

Router R1 connects the main office to the Internet, and routers R2 and R3 are internal routers.

NAT is enabled on router R1.

The routing protocol that is enabled between routers R1, R2 and R3 is RIPv2.

R1 sends the default route into RIPv2 for the internal routers to forward Internet traffic to R1.

You have console access on R1, R2 and R3 devices. Use only show commands to troubleshoot the issues.

R1 router clock is synchronized with ISP router. R2 is supposed to receive NTP updates from R1. But you observe that R2 clock is not synchronized with R1. What is the reason R2 is not receiving NTP updates from R1?

- A. The IP address that is used in the NTP configuration on R2 router is incorrect.
- B. The R1 router Ethernet interface that is connected to R2 is placed in shutdown condition.
- C. The R2 router Ethernet interface that is connected to R1 is placed in shutdown condition.
- D. The NTP server command not configured on R2 router.

Answer: A

Explanation:

Explanation/Reference:

Explanation:

First we should verify if the ports connected between R1 and R2 is in "up/up" state with the "show ip interface brief" command on R1 & R2.

Note: We learn R1 & R2 connect to each other via E0/2 interface because the IP addresses of these interfaces belong to 192.168.10.0/30 subnet. Both of them are "up/up" so the link connecting between R1 & R2 is good.

Next we need to verify the ntp configuration on R2 with the "show running-config" command.

So there is only one command related to NTP configuration on R2 so we need to check if the IP address of 192.168.100.1 is correct or not. But from the "show ip interface brief" command on R1 we don't see this IP -> This IP address is not correct. It should be 192.168.10.1 (IP address of interface E0/2 of R1), not 192.168.100.1.

NEW QUESTION: 3

A Network Engineer needs to be automatically notified when a certain TCP port is accessed on a fleet of Amazon EC2 instances running in an Amazon VPC.

Which of the following is the MOST reliable solution?

- A. Install intrusion detection software on each Amazon EC2 instance and configure it to use the AWS CLI to notify the Administrator with Amazon SNS each time the TCP port is accessed.
- B. Create an inbound rule in the VPC's network ACL that matches the TCP port. Create an Amazon CloudWatch alarm on the NetworkPackets metric for the ACL that uses Amazon SNS to notify the Administrator when the metric is greater than zero.
- C. Install intrusion detection software on each Amazon EC2 instance and configure it to use the AWS CLI to publish to a custom Amazon CloudWatch metric each time the TCP port is accessed. Create a CloudWatch alarm on the resulting metric that uses Amazon SNS to notify the Administrator when the metric is greater than zero.
- D. Create VPC Flow Logs that write to Amazon CloudWatch Logs, with a metric filter matching connections on the required port. Create a CloudWatch alarm on the resulting metric that uses Amazon SNS to notify the Administrator when the metric is greater than zero.

Answer: B
